Rachel Clements: Theatre Unmasked

This topic will take a critical and deep look at the theatre and performing arts industries around the world. We will discuss a variety of topics, including the different jobs and roles in theatre, how theatre has changed over time, the role of the theatre today, safety and mental health in theatre, and theatre education. This topic will include drama games and activities, which will aid in demonstrating the different topics that we will be discussing.

20. 8. 9.00 - 12.30

Marcus Shukes: Driving into the Future

The evolution of autonomous vehicles. We will explore the moral, legal and ethical issues associated with these futuristic vehicles. The session will include relevant vocabulary, technical jargon and video presentations from newscast, and written articles supporting and opposing the idea of autonomous vehicles. You will be required to express your opinions, thoughts, and predictions.

20. 8. 14.30 - 18.00

Kristof Abrath: Global Classroom - Teaching English in Different Countries

My first English teaching job was in 2006 in Indonesia teaching 3,5-year-olds without any previous experience. I have since taught English to all ages and all levels on four different continents.

We will have a look at and discuss different educational approaches from around the world. We will also share how to best reach and motivate diverse types of students, looking at what works and what doesn't work. You will have a chance to brush up your vocabulary and engage in conversation about teaching in various settings. The session will equip you with new insights and new vocabulary.
